

Solid

Sophistication

*Bert & Jim Huff, Owners of Huff Realty
The Huff Building, Fort Mitchell KY*

Every building has a story. And the story of the new Huff building in Fort Mitchell off I-75 actually began decades ago. That's when real estate brokers Jim Huff and his wife Bert noticed the superior craftsmanship of the Country Squire Estate homes in Villa Hills. The builder? Toebben Companies.

Twenty years later Jim and Bert envision a 50,000 square foot corporate headquarters for their marketing, commercial, and relocation offices. Who to call to construct a building of this magnitude? The choice was easy: Toebben Companies.

"The Toebben staff was very positive and professional", says Bert, "we wanted a classy look and everything turned out just as we hoped." Jim liked how he didn't have to wait for Toebben to take action. "They get right on things," he says, "it was easy working with such an experienced and first class team."

You see it's not just the prime location, massive granite, or hundred seat training room -- it's the process that gets you there. Whether you're ready to construct the sophisticated corporate office of your dreams or you just need some solid office space, call Toebben Companies today!
