

THE CONVENIENCE of HOME

Squire Valley
Luxury Landoniniums

Above: Toebben landominium featured in the May 2007 Cavalcade of Homes Show. At right: Mark & Dee MacDonald in their Squire Valley landominium.

Looking for an upscale location that affords you luxury and a custom home without the outside maintenance or a long commute? Then discover Toebben's Squire Valley Landoniniums in Northern Kentucky's Villa Hills. Mark MacDonald and his wife did! They recently moved into their new 4000+ square foot landominium that was personally supervised during its construction by John Toebben.

"I couldn't be happier," says Mark. "We saw one of John's homes at the 2005 Cavalcade Show and we just kept coming back. The quality of his wood and stain work is impressive and it was refreshing to deal directly with the person with the ultimate authority. We also like the convenience of the Squire Valley location. In reality, John's only competition is the resale of homes that he's already built!"

Three large single family lots are also available in the neighboring Country Squire Estates. Either way, you'll experience the convenience of having a quality crafted home a mere ten minutes from the airport or downtown Cincinnati. Hurry though -- some lake lots are still available!

To get to this prestigious community take I-75/71 to Buttermilk Pike, go west 1 mile, turn right into Country Squire Estates and then follow the signs for Squire Valley. You can also call John Toebben directly at (859) 512-2426.

