Even in a slow economy, some companies are bound to grow, and Bottom Line Systems definitely has. Headquartered in the Toebben Executive Center in Crescent Springs, Bottom Line Systems offers payment compliance services for hospitals, physicians, and other primary care providers.

Bette Rains, Chief Operating Officer, initially picked the Toebben building because of its proximity to the I75/71 expressway and central location for recruiting. Now she's glad she chose Toebben because of their responsiveness to her company's growth and the resulting need for more office space.

"Toebben has been very flexible as our business has grown," says Bette, "and the quality of work done on our expansion projects has been excellent. This is the best landlord-tenant relationship we've ever participated in."

Would she consider having Toebben construct Bottom Line Systems their own building? Bette responds, "as we keep growing, definitely."
