Taking good care

Studio Director Beckha Jackson and Owner Ellen Bradley at Moksha Yoga & Athletica in Toeppen Companies' High Street Center, Crescent Springs KY.

Amazing! Better than good! That's how Beckha Jackson describes the Toeppen crew and staff who worked on the new Moksha Yoga studio in Crescent Springs, KY. Her partners Ellen and Michael Bradley chose Toeppen Companies' High Street Center because of its quick access to I-75/71. Their research also told them that Toeppen was a quality builder. Beckha has found though that Toeppen does more than just good work.

"We wanted our place to be in touch with the earth, caring, and comfortable," she explains, "and Toeppen has been very supportive with whatever we wanted to do. We have three types of environmentally friendly flooring, our countertops and benches have been made from recycled wood, and a water fall adds to the soothing atmosphere. Our store is definitely more unique than most but Toeppen made us feel very confident that they could meet our requests. They have really taken good care of us."

Feel like you and your business could use some good care, too? Stop by Moksha Yoga for a yoga lesson and then call Toeppen Companies for all of your commercial, retail, or industrial needs!
